Hey, friends!

We've got an open call for submissions of poetry, fiction, creative nonfiction, scripts, and visual art and photography to this year's issue of Flumes. Deadline is March 15.

I've attached a promotional flyer, and I've included some promotional language below, if that helps, too.

Please consider submitting some of your creative work, and please encourage your colleagues and students and the creative people in your lives and community to submit work as well.
